faber and faber

MILAN KUNDERA
The Unbearable Lightness of Being
Translated from the Czech by Michael Henry Heim

The Unbearable Lightness of Being was first published in 1984 and was at once hailed by the critics as a contemporary classic.

'Read this book; here is a writer who really matters'. Malcolm Bradbury

'This is a brilliant novel from someone who, amongst Rushdie and Márquez, is one of our masters of magic realism'. Cosmopolitan

'There are novels which are tragic, or entertaining, and this one is both. There are very few that give a fresh perspective on existence, and force the reader to reassess his own life and attitudes. Kundera is consistently interesting'. Sunday Times

Milan Kundera was born in Czechoslovakia. He is the author of Laughable Loves, Life is Elsewhere, The Farewell Party, The Book of Laughter and Forgetting and The Joke.

Cover design by Pentagram
Illustration by Russell Mills

£3.99 net

ISBN 0-571-13539-0

9 780571 135394