

The excavation of a mysterious Egyptian tomb early this century holds the key to one of the greatest disasters to strike humankind. Strangely sealed, this was a tomb constructed to keep someone – or something – in.

Now in the paperback edition of his sensational book, acclaimed writer-detective Graham Phillips uncovers the evidence that links a chain of extraordinary events. The findings in this cursed Pharaoh's tomb, new evidence from the polar ice caps which overturns ancient chronology, together with the eruption of an ancient volcano 300 times more powerful than the Nagasaki bomb, proves that the Biblical Parting of the Red Sea and Plagues of Egypt could be accurate accounts of actual events.

As a result there could also be a real, and totally believable, explanation for the perennial myth of Atlantis...

'Graham Phillips is a seeker of the truth, a questor ... an extraordinary exploration into ancient history'

The Universe

'Of the many books out recently shedding new light on ancient history, this attempt to prove that the Bible is nearer historical truth than sceptics maintain is one of the best'

Daily Mail

'A great tale, skilfully researched and argued'

Birmingham Post

Graham Phillips is the author of the acclaimed King Arthur: The True Story, The Shakespeare Conspiracy, and with Martin Keatman The Green Stone, The Eye of Fire and The Search for the Grail.