

Gary Zukav's absorbing guide to the mind-stretching mysteries of the new physics points out striking parallels with modern psychology and eastern mysticism.

'It is hard to imagine a layman who would not find this book enjoyable and informative'

MARTIN GARDNER, author of The Ambidextrous Universe

'It is to be recommended highly, both for those who want to understand the essential significance of modern physics and for those who are concerned with its implications for the possible transformation of the human consciousness'

TLS

'For those who know little or no physics this book is an excellent guide into the magic of modern physics ... I recommend it thoroughly. I recommend it to physicists too'

QUARTO

Cover illustration by John Harris

ISBN 0-00-654030-9

U.K. £2.95

9 780006 540304